

Registration

The registration is free and any PhD student either from an ENAI member or non-member institution is eligible to apply for the summer school. COMU will issue a "Certificate of Attendance" to all participants. As there are no parallel sessions, participants are expected to attend all 10 sessions during the week. Please be aware that for the application you need to prepare and submit up to 500-word paper written on a topic of your choice that is free from plagiarism and showcases your current research, style of writing, referencing, etc. This paper will be the basis for activities and feedback during the classes. You will have to attach the paper to the application as a Word document. Applications will be accepted via ENAI webpage. We very much look forward to welcoming you and/or your students at our summer school in Canakkale!
