

Mehmet Ali Icbay

Department of Lifelong Learning and Adult Education
Faculty of Education Çanakkale Onsekiz Mart University
maicbay@gmail.com
<https://orcid.org/0000-0002-6789-0306>

Mehmet Ali Icbay currently works as an associate professor in the Department of Lifelong Learning and Adult Education at Çanakkale Onsekiz Mart University. He completed his undergraduate education on foreign language education and psychology, and his graduate education on curriculum and instruction at Middle East Technical University, Turkey. Previously, he worked in the Department of Medical Education at Southern Illinois University, Springfield, in the Department of Teaching and Learning at The Ohio State University, Columbus, and in the Department of Educational Sciences at Middle East Technical University, Ankara. His research focuses on the social organization of order in the classrooms and qualitative methods in educational settings. His recent publications include the classroom order in the lesson beginnings and closings, the interactional construction of laughter in the panel meetings, the college students' experiences with online education during the corona virus, and the school administrators' opinions about managing the pandemic in the schools.